

the voice of australia's oil and gas industry

Don't let Australia lose 150,000 new jobs.

Natural Gas in all its forms is Australia's next resource boom. It will fuel our economy for decades, creating over 150,000 new jobs. But that future success is threatened by people who don't care enough about losing Australian jobs and investment. So help defend our natural advantage and secure a brighter future for Australia at:
